Dear Sir.

I am after information in regard to a collection of interesting medals in my possession. All but three are foreign.

Two of them are:

A large silver medal with (George Washington) on one side and (Residence of Washington – Mount Vernon Virginia) on the other.

A silver medal (In commemoration of the hundredth anniversary of American Independence.)

The collection consists of forty-nine bronze and silver medals and I would like to know if there is a book that would tell of the value and rarity of them. or can I get information, about certain medals that I might ask about, from you.

Yours very truly

Homer R. Williams

Dear Sir:

The question you ask in your letter of February 16th is very difficult to answer as, for the most part, American medals bring very little. There is consequently no fixed price for these because so few collectors care for them. If you want to sell them, I would advise your communicating with Mr. F. G. Duffield, 1811 Mosher Street, Baltimore, Md., regarding placing an advertisement in The Numismatist. This magazine reaches all collectors.

Very truly yours,

Curator
